POLITICAL PARADE

By CLEM WHITAKER

In the language of the streets, California—we mean California State Government—is simply rolling in dough!

The shekels are piling up so fast that State Treasurer Charles G. (Handsome Gus) Johnson needs a new vault to put them away for safe keeping.

And State Controller Harry Riley, who used to worry about deficits, is now laying awake nights wondering what in the hell to do with the money.

It's colossal; it's terrific; it's bigger and better than anything Hollywood ever turned out in one of its more magnificent moments. Where they used to get dimes, they now get dollars. And even Governor Olson, who bitterly opposed the Legislature's attempt to reduce taxes, is now a firm believer in Santa Claus.

Fred E. Stewart, the gray-thatched impresario of the State Board of Equalization, whose board collects most of the dough, admits that the state will shortly be embarrassed with riches, unless something is done about it, but Fred, as usual, has a solution.

Back in 1933, when California was faced with a threatened tax strike because taxes on real property were heavier than taxpayers could bear, Fred stepped into the breech with the Stewart-Riley Tax Relief plan, which saved many home-owners, farmers and other common property taxpayers from bankruptcy.

Today, says Mr. Stewart, the problem is different, but the solution is much the same. Then, one group of taxpayers was being discriminated against, while a larger group was being favored. The problem was equalization. Now, he asserts, all taxpayers (due to the national defense program) are carrying an exceedingly heavy burden, and the state should make liberal tax reductions to compensate, at least in part, for the heavier Federal load.

"The state sales tax alone" reports Mr. Stewart, "is now producing around $10,000,000 a month, where a year ago it was bringing in only about $8,500,000. Due to national defense spending, other state taxes are booming in proportion. But this, of course, is a superficial boom. We pay it out there—and it comes in here. It's that kind of a story.

"There's only one intelligent thing to do. State taxes should be cut—and cut drastically—as an offset to the increase in Federal taxes. Our state deficit should be paid off ,in full, by the end of the current fiscal year. Before the year ends, the legislature should be called into special session — and state taxes should be cut at least $40,000,000 a biennium."

To this writer, that sounds like common-sense. Yes, Mr. Stewart! we think you have something!

Jean Holloway's Radio Play Proves Popular

The public response on the one-hour play "Song Without End" written by Miss Jean Holloway and broadcast over the Columbia network Monday, August 18 has been a record breaker, over three thousand letters having been received, many requesting it be repeated.

The story written on the French composer DeBussey with his beautiful composition played throughout, led by the leader of the Boston Symphony orchestra, was a fitting setting for the play, starring Burgess Meredith and Margo in the title roles.

Miss Holloway will have another of her plays broadcast Monday, Sept. 1 at 5 p. m. The play is titled "The Jubilee" which her many many friends are looking forward to hearing.

Incidently her much traveled wire haired terrier "Grapenuts" is vacationing in her California home with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lamb for two months awaiting the fall broadcasting on the Kate Smith hour when she will be returned by plane to New York.

Future Farmers Visit State Fair

Members of Campbell Future Farmers Chapter left today to visit and exhibit at the California State Fair in Sacramento.

Those accompanying Agriculture Instructor K. C. Dwelley to the fair were Dean Peterson, Jack Farnham and Salvador Lipari.

Future Farmers exhibiting at the State Fair are Huxley Galbraith, dried prunes, fresh prunes, and in three classes of Leghorn Pullets. Also exhibiting are Frank Johnson, hogs, and Richard Todd, field corn, string beans, dried and fresh prunes, New Hampshire Red Cockrels, and in two classes of New Hampshire Red pullets.

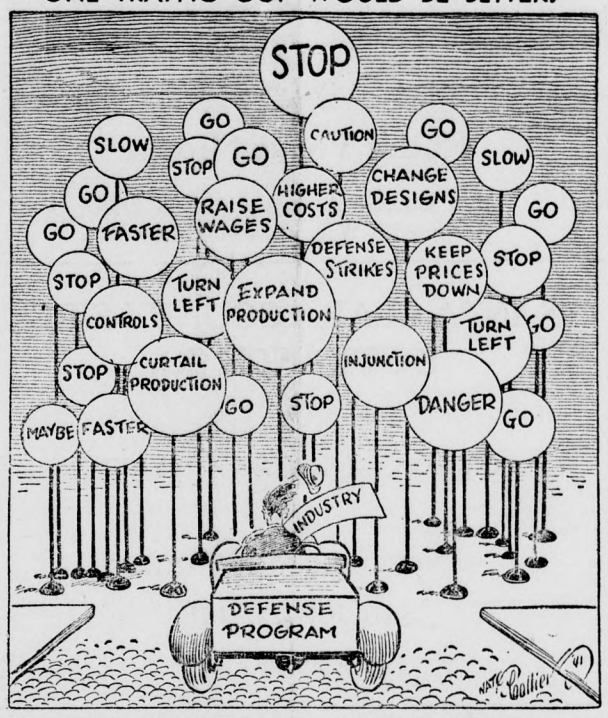
After much consideration it was decided not to show hogs at the State Fair because of the local prevelance of hog flu and prevalence of vesicular exonthema throughout herds in the state.

Mrs. O. A. Putnam On Vacation Trip

Mrs. O. A. Putnam is having her annual vacation from the Campbell post office. She writes enthusiastically of a trip up the Redwood highway, a visit to the Oregon Caves and Crater Lake. The next point of interest was to be an inspection of Shasta Dam, and then to quote, "as fancy dictates." Her daughter, Mrs. Vaudine Putnam Sanders of San Jose, is her companion on the excursion.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burns attended the Ice Follies in San Francisco Sunday night.

ONE TRAFFIC COP WOULD BE BETTER!



Irving Townsend Sends Message To Campbellites

R. H. Knappen received a letter dated August 20, from Irving Townsend, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Townsend of North Union avenue, in which was a message to any Campbellites who might be visiting Hot Springs, Ark.

Townsend is a representative of the National Park Service which is the supervising agency of the bath houses which thousands visit for the benefit of the mineral and natural hot springs baths and states he is always ready to help visitors (and in particular those from Campbell) in seeing the various attractions.

He reports exceptionally fine business, with a total of baths for July, 1941, of 58,648 as compared with 50,368 for July of last year, and "believe it or not there were two from London, England."

He said "the Townsends in Arkansas are fine and well, enjoying a warm (101 yesterday) summer with occasional thunder showers to cool us off a bit."

He extended best wishes to any Campbellites who would do well to drop in at the National Park Service Museum in the center of Hot Springs if they visit that section.

He enclosed a copy of the monthly travel record of the Hot Springs National Park, which shows the number of visitors, their method of travel and state or country of residence.

He also included his renewal of the Campbell Press which has followed him to his various locations.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Herold and children, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Knappen and son enjoyed a barbecue and the Guadaloupe ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Lanphear Saturday evening. Most of the party stayed over to enjoy Sunday in the mountains.

York-Bushnell Wedding To Take Place Saturday

Philip S. York and Miss Jane Bushnell will be married Saturday at a lovely garden wedding at the Bushnell home on Bicknell avenue. Dr. Burton Palmer of Woodside will officiate at the ceremony.

Miss Bushnell's attendant will be her sister, Miss Dennis Claire Bushnell and Gordon Ruddell will serve as groomsman.

Miss Bushnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bushnell is a graduate of the Los Gatos High school and has been employed at the Saratoga Beauty shop.

The benedict-elect is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. York, a graduate of Campbell High school and attended the Polytechnic school at San Luis Obispo. He is now employed in San Francisco at the Fairbanks-Morse company but the couple plan to make their home in San Jose.

Mr., Mrs. De Selle Honor Son, Wife

Mr. and Mrs. Charles De Selle were hosts at a dinner and reception Friday evening at their North Second street home in honor of their son and new daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin De Selle.

Guests present were Messrs and Mesdames Martin Shadle, Albert Bernard, James Preston (Dorothy De Selle), Raymond De Selle, the guests of honor and the hosts. Other members of the family were unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cleveland and children, Alice Mary, Louise, and Raymond and Mrs. Cleveland's father, L. J. Davie of Richland, Missouri, visited the past week at the home of his brother Willard Cleveland and family.

Last Rites For Early Settler Held Today

In the passing of George W. Page Tuesday afternoon, Campbell has lost another of its sturdy, energetic and public spirited pioneers.

Mr. Page's death resulted from injuries received in a fall ten days previous while assisting in loading timbers from the old trestle over Los Gatos creek.

George Page was born at Elsie, Clinton county, Michigan, Oct 9, 1868. His early years were spent at Galena, Ohio, where he attended grammar and high schools, and then learned telegraphy. He moved on west to Kansas City but did not find things very satisfactory so with a few dollars in his possession came out to San Jose arriving April 21, 1889.

He engaged in orchard work and soon started on his career as an orchardist by purchasing five acres on the San Jose-Los Gatos road, later with his brother, Charles R. Page, buying the old Lovelady estate of forty acres on the same road.

On October 23, 1895 at San Jose he was married to Bertha P. Williams, a class mate at Galena, who had taught for several years in Nebraska and who survives him and is living at the family home.

They were the parents of three children, all surviving, Mrs. I. Marie Cleaves, Earl Victor Page, and Edwyna Enzminger. There is also one grandchild, Miss Jeanne Marie Kerwin. The brother Charles is now in Los Angeles.

Mr. Page developed considerable ability as an engineer and very early began a campaign for irrigation and flood control with a dam in Los Gatos creek and irrigation ditches.

He always worked for and promoted those things that would be of permanent value to the people but firmly opposed those projects which in his judgment would not give the public an adequate return.

Seven years ago he had a long serious illness from which his recovery seemed doubtful, but he did return to very active physical and business life.

Following the retirement of B. O. Curry from his office, Page was associated for a time with J. M. Dahl, which he left to open a subdivision on property bordering Casey road where he erected ten houses.

He was a charter member of the Campbell Methodist church and for many years an active participant in its work, serving as a trustee.

Private funeral services were held this morning from the Rutherford Funeral Home, Rev. D. H. Baldwin of the Methodist church presiding. Interment was in Los Gatos cemetery.

A memorial service will be given Sunday morning in the church.

Acting as pall bearers were L. J. Carboni, Raymond Fish, C. B. Wooster, Fred Malkmes, Frederick Enzminger and William Finnemore.

Dr. Chas. Fernish Guest Speaker At Kiwanis Tuesday

Dr. Charles Fernish of San Jose gave the Kiwanis club a very interesting and graphic story of the "History and Development of Anaesthesia" at Tuesday's luncheon meeting.

Jack Murdock served as chairman.

Appointed as a nominating committee for the coming election of officers were Ben Davison, chairman, Ray Mathis and Guy Farley.

Next Tuesday Alvin Long will show some of his moving pictures and will be presented by Lowell Benson, chairman.

Eugene Green Slightly Injured In Auto Accident

Eugene Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Green of Casey road was in an auto accident Thursday night. His car crashed into a power pole and a tree near the Santa Clara cemetery as he was nearing home from a long drive, having come from Oregon that day.

He stated that he must have fallen asleep. The car was badly wrecked and he suffered some injuries but fortunately not serious ones as he was able to return to work within a short time.

He was treated at the County hospital where he was taken by passing motorists.

Frank LeMorte Fatally Injured

Frank LeMorte resident of Winchester road near Williams road, was fatally injured Monday, when a small truck which he was cranking slipped into gear and ran over him.

He was taken to the County hospital where he passed away two hours later. The accident occurred in an orchard near his home.

LeMorte, a native of Tricarico, Italy, was 56 years of age.

He leaves his widow Rose LeMorte, three sons, Benjamin, Joseph and Tony and two daughters, Mrs. Angelina Mancino and Mrs. Mary Pierra.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning.

Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Morgan who left last week for a vacation at Huntington Lake and Yosemite, planned to return the first of September, via the Tioga Pass route.

Mrs. M. E. Curry and sons, Pat and David are again at home after an enjoyable trip north to British Columbia.

Motorists today were reminded by the California Highway Patrol of the necessity for extra care in driving over the coming week because of congestion incident to the three-day holiday. Every available patrolman was instructed to report for duty by Chief E. Raymond Cato for the entire period. THE BOOK MARK by marty

"Amazon Throne" by Bertita Harding.

Pardon me while I smooth out this wrinkle.

Such intense absorption I have not seen in a great number of books, as the last reader of "Amazon Throne" experienced. Yes, its worthy of extreme absorption. The readers don't go through this book as fast as they do some of them, so I tried to get as much of the story as possible the first time.

The author, Bertita Harding, tells the story of Brazil's three Braganz emperors, covering most of the nineteenth century, in a plain, every-day style. A style as compelling and arresting, by virtue of its plainness, as any writer of our time.

Because this book concerns our South American neighbors it should be of deep interest to all in this country. And another reason it deserves wide recognition is its historical facts. It seems to me that the fanatical rulers of Europe today are but a mirrored reflection of the ones in power over a century ago.

The story begins when Napoleon's force was being felt the strongest in Spain and Portugal. The mad Queen of Portugal, Maria I of Braganza, the crown prince, Dom Joao, his family and a retinue of fifteen hundred nobles fled to Brazil. Once in the new, wild and uncivilized country, troubles multiplied for the crown prince. Though having won the natives confidence and love, his greatest and most heartbreaking struggles were within his own family.

You know, after having read what took place in those times and realize the temperments and personalities of the rulers, people should be more confident and proud of our political situation today.

After the mad Queen died, Dom Joao became King, not only of Brazil but of Portugal as well, and after many full years as ruler of Brazil he returned to his native country, leaving his son, Dom Pedro I to govern. Dom Pedro's reign was colorful, his personal life was dramatic and tragic, and after his subsequent departure for Portugal, his son, Dom Pedro II, was left in control. It was during his time that Brazil declared herself a republic. Pedro abdicated and went to Portugal, as his father before him did, being the third Braganza to end his days in Portugal.

To read the book is to understand more clearly our present day upheaval, at home and in Europe. Many situations of the nineteenth century are being repeated right now.

It's not a long drawn out, dry record of historical facts—it is brilliant, colorful, sympathetic and highly dramatic.

Every child should have his eyes examined before doing too much studying. If your child squints or holds his book close, has trouble in comprehending what he is reading, or complains of headaches, his eyes probably need attention. Don't take the chance that your children will be handicapped throughout their school life and possibly have their eyes ruined for later years. OUR HIGH SCHOOL

THE LIBRARY
Muriel Carson

To the library each day come hundreds of students searching for material with which to supplement their class and textbook work. Due to the rapid changes from day to day in the economic, social, and political structure of the world no single text is able to give the student a complete picture of the world in which he lives, so the library is more necessary than ever before. Among the references available to him are atlases, yearbooks, encyclopedias, dictionaries, newspapers, magazines, and pamphlets. These are brought up-to-date constantly. The Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature aids him finding recent magazine articles on persons, places ,and events in the news.

To add to the general knowledge of the pupil, there are shelves of science, biography, travel, history, music, art, domestic science, literature and fiction. The Santa Clara County Library provides (or makes accessible) additional books on all subjects.

The task of running the library is in the hands of a head librarian, an N. Y. A. assistant, and seven student librarians. The student librarians are trained for this work in a special library class for which they receive credit. Besides the work each does at the charging desk, he helps the students find references, gives them pictures from the files to illustrate their class-room talks, and helps them select books for outside reading. Each chooses one additional task such as mounting pictures, collecting pamphlets, changing bulletin boards, repairing books, or assisting the head librarian in the textbook room, as his special work.

The experience which the student receives in assuming responsibility and in meeting the public provides excellent training on which he may draw later when he goes on to college or into the business world.
